Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 3621

DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office action is in response to Applicant's Response, filed on 01/02/2004.
2. Claims 1-72 are pending.
3. The rejection to claims 1-72 under 35 U.S.C 102 (e) as being anticipated by Downs et al (U.S. Pat. No. 6,574,609) as set forth in the Office action mailed on 1/021/2003 is maintained., see below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371⁶ of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

5. Claims 1-72 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (e) as being anticipated by Downs et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,574,609).

As per claims 1, 4-13, 49, and 52-66 Downs discloses a right management in the secure digital content electronic distribution system that is implemented through a set of functions distributed among the operating components of the system, comprising the steps of:

allowing a user to communicate with the license server by way of the hosted browser to acquire the license (see., abstract, col 66, lines 22-67, fig 6);

receiving the license from the license server; and shutting down, by the hosting rendering application, the hosted browser upon receiving the license (see., col 66, lines 34-67, specifically wherein it is stated that signature of the license can be verified to determine if it is a valid license. If it is a valid license either the download is initiated, or the download request may be redirected (redirected or shutting down) to another content).

As per claims 2, and 50 Downs discloses the claimed method of causing the browser to navigate to a license server based on information received by the rendering application from the DRM (see., abstract, col 1, lines 62-67, col 6, lines 59-67, col 7, lines 1-64).

As per claims 3, 51 Downs discloses the claimed method of receiving information necessary to acquire the license including a site identifier identifying a license server and causing the browser to navigate to the license server based on the site identifier (see., col 66, lines 27-64, col 65, lines 3-40).

As per claims 14-24, Downs discloses a right management in the secure digital content electronic distribution system that is implemented through a set of functions distributed among the operating components of the system, comprising the steps of:

attempt, by the DRM system, to silently acquire the license from a license server without the intervention of a user (see., abstract, col 66, lines 22-67, fig 6);

if the attempt to silently acquire the license fails, allowing a user to attempt to acquire the license from a license server by way of a browser hosted by the rendering application (see., col 66, lines 34-67, specifically wherein it is stated that signature of the license can be verified to determine if it is a valid license. If it is a valid license either the download is initiated, or the download request may be redirected (redirected or attempt) to another content).

Art Unit: 2785

As per claims 25-48, and 67-72 Downs discloses the claimed limitation of having operating thereon a rendering application for rendering digital content and a digital rights managements system for authorizing such rendering based on a corresponding digital license, the rendering application and the DRM system for effectuating acquisition of such license upon the rendering application requesting the DRM system for authorization for such rendering based on such license and upon the DRM system notifying the rendering application that such license is not available on the computing device, the rendering application hosting a browser and causing the browser to navigate to a license server to allow a user to communicate with the license server by way of the hosted browser to acquire the license, the rendering application shutting down the hosted browser upon receiving the license from the license server (see., abstract, specifically col 7, lines 22-64, col 66, lines 34-50, license 660, fig 6, col 66, lines 34-67, specifically wherein it is stated that signature of the license can be verified to determine if it is a valid license. If it is a valid license either the download is initiated, or the download request may be redirected (redirected or shutting down) to another content.

RESPONSE TO ARGUMENTS

6. Applicant's arguments filed on 01/02/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

REMARKS

Art Unit: 2785

7. In response to Applicant's arguments, Applicant argues that the Downs reference fails to disclose:

a. the browser to navigate to a license server. Based upon foregoing rejection indicated above, it is believed that Downs discloses this limitation in the abstract, col 7, lines 22-64, specifically wherein said control and enforcement of content usage according to the conditions of purchase or license, such as permitted number of copies, number of plays, and the time interval or term the license may be valid. Applicant should note that with the proper licensing authorization the users are capable of browsing or navigate to the licenser server, fig 1D.

b. acquiring a digital license that authorizes rendering of corresponding digital content. As indicated above, Downs discloses this limitation see., col 7, lines 22-65, rights management in the secure digital content and licensing authorization.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
